USCIS Launches a Redesigned Website on September 22, 2009

Immigration Resource · Tuesday, September 22nd, 2009

On September 22, 2009, the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) Secretary Janet Napolitano, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) Director Alejandro Mayorkas and Federal Chief Performance Officer Jeff Zients launched a redesigned website (<http://www.uscis.gov/portal/site/uscis>), available in English and Spanish. This effort is to actualize President Barrack Obama's commitment on helping customers navigate the very complicated U.S. immigration system and obtain their latest case status information. The redesigned USCIS website is intended to be more user friendly to customers, and a one-stop website for customers to obtain immigration services and information.
