Proposed Law on Public Charge for Denying Cases for More Current and Potential Welfare Benefits Recipients

Tiyalaw · Thursday, September 27th, 2018

Proposed Law on Public Charge for Denying Cases for More Current and Potential Welfare Benefits Recipients

Recently, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) proposes new law to widen the “public charge” determination for recipients of various welfare benefits. Those who are likely to become a “public charge” at any time in the future will be inadmissible and disqualify from various immigration green card applications, admissions, visas; and nonimmigrant change of status and extension of stay. USCIS will publish the effective date for proposed rules upon completing public comments and reviews.

The public benefits (beyond certain thresholds) that are covered by the proposed “public charge” determination includes:

1. Receipt of designated public benefits, including cash assistance for income maintenance, Medicaid (with limited exceptions for Medicaid benefits paid for an “emergency medical condition,” and for certain disability services related to education), Medicare Part D Low Income Subsidy, the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP, or food stamps), any benefit provided for institutionalization for long-term care at government expense, Section 8 Housing Choice Voucher Program, Section 8 Project-Based Rental Assistance, and Public Housing. Generally, these covered benefits represent the largest Federal programs for low-income people by total expenditure that address basic living needs such as income, housing, food, and medical care.
2. Under the proposed rule, receipt of public benefits that are not covered by the 1999 Interim Field Guidance (i.e., Medicaid, the Medicare Part D Low Income Subsidy, SNAP, and the designated housing benefits) would not be considered for public charge purposes. Only such benefits receipt that occurred after a final rule becomes effective will be considered public charge.

The proposed rules will not affect foreign nationals specifically exempted from the public charge ground of inadmissibility, such as refugees, asylees, Afghans and Iraqis with special immigrant visas, nonimmigrant trafficking and crime victims, individuals applying under the Violence Against Women Act (VAWA), and special immigrant juveniles; and also excludes consideration of benefits received by U.S. citizen children of aliens who will acquire citizenship under either section 320 or 322 of the INA, and by alien service members of the U.S. Armed Forces.

Additionally, most lawful permanent residents would not be subject to inadmissibility determinations; certain exceptions apply.
